Men Will Take Manhattan Farmers Into Camp Despite Unfavorable Dope.

Despite Okinhoma a four straight defeats and the fact that the Kansas Aggies have tied Kansas and have besten Missouri. Soonerland refuses to concede next Saturday's game to be played here to the farmers from Manhattan. Okinhoma undergraduates are confident that the Owen machine will prove itself at last and win its first important victory of the season.

MANHATTAN, Kan, Nov. 16.— The Kansas Aggies will take on the Okinhoma home sooners and the played home that they have had on the field in years. Instead of hitting a mid-season slump the Aggies are going stronger all the time. Doping from the fact that K. U. defeated the Sooners by a comfortable margin, and that the Tigers have done likewise this season, the Farmers should edd the scalps of sensy Owen's men to the beltful they have garnered already.

Belief Prevails That Owen's Tie With Kansas and Victory Over Missouri Lead Kansas Aggies to Consider Sooner Game Already Won.

out on Hoyd field last night the Sooner mentor sent his team through the hardest scriminage of the season. In fact it was the first scriminage this year that has been typical of the Sooner scriminages of fermer years. Every man was fighting like a veteran and the most encouraging feature of the day's work was the sterling defense put up by the varsity forwards. A weak line has been one of the greatest weaknesses of the Sooner machine all season. Yealerday the varsity line threw back every charge of the freshmen and second team and even defied the efforts of the first string backs when switched to the second eleven, to break through. The Kansas Agents of the first string backs when switched to the second eleven, to break through. The Kansas Agents are noted for their line smashing tactics, the same as brought victory to Missouri over Oklahoma, but it is believed that this time the Sooper forwards will be able to stand their ground.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 18.—Changing his plans in order to get a better line on his backfield men. Coach John Rush planned to send the Princeton varsity eleven through another scrimmage late today in preparation for the Yale football game on Saturday.

Yesterday's hard drive in scrimmage left the men in a much improved condition.

Yale Demanding Odds of Tigers

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 15.—Yale's last hard-fought battle practice before the Princeton game will be held in the bowl this afternoom. The first and second teams will have a drill in secret for half an hour, after which the gates will be thrown open to enable the students to see the remainder of the work. The entire student body, headed by a band, planned to march to the field to practice cheers and songs. While Yale men generally are optimistic over the outcome, they see demanding odds from Princeton. Betting so far has been light.

A half hour's scrimmage during which the varsity scored two touchdowns against the scrubs featured the practice of the Yale sleven yesterday.

Legore, the speedy halfback, who is said to be slightly overtrained, was given a rest. Scarey took his place and scored one of the touchdowns beside contributing a 25-yard run. The work of the eleven was said to be satisfactory.

The first massmeting of the year was held last night.

Harry Adams, one of the team which goes to St Louis tomorrow to represent Oklahoma City in the Mid-West bowling tournament, raised his average to 183 for the season when he knocked over 557 pins in helping the Knight-Reck team take two out of three games from Petites.

Jack Dillon has dropped his last two starts sgainst Battling Levineky and Mike Gibbons. And yet they were about to throw Jack to Jess Willard in the greatest battle of the country. Try that on your imagination.

BOXING

Concern about his line is the greatest worry of Coach Schlabach of Oklahoma high school on the eve of the second meeting with Enid high school which is Cari Morris vs. Battling Levins to take place at Saratoga tomorrow afternoon.

Something has gone wrong with his forwards. Early in the season, Cole, Bottger, Newbern and Harkins made a solid quartet in the center of the line that save the backs and ends a chance to do things. Recently this wall has been crumbling, and the weakening seems to be at the point where the greatest strength might have been expected—right guard.

Newbern is a young giant—perhaps the physical squal of any high school player in the state. In his early gumes this year he ripped opposing lines to pieces and opened wide holes through which the basis could charge for long gains. Recently he has seemed to have lost all of his effectiveness. In his last two games he has been outplayed by his lighter opponents. His work will be watched closely temorrow.

Otherwise the locals are feeling fairly good about tomorrow's game. The cripples are in fair shape and if the line cando its duty. Schishach does not fast but that the scoring department will out-class that of the invading team.

Only a slight signal and kicking drill will be given the locals this afternoon. Little more punch, a little more speed, and a little more strategy won for Benery Leonard of New York, a popular decision over Johnny Dundee, also of New York, a popular verdiet at the end of six rounds of milling at Philadelphia last night. Both are contenders for Freddie Weish's lightweight crown. Dundee weighed only 1324 while Leonard tipped the beam at 136.

Jess Willard has been advertised to be at the ringside in Kansas City tonight when Carl Morris and Battling Levinsky clash. His engagement with the Sells-Floto areus ended last Saturday.

Robby Burns has been matched for eight rounds with Ray Simons in Mem-phis next Monday night.

Fighting Thorpe of Kansas City will meet Johnny Dundee next Tuesday night in St Louis. They are to step twelve rounds.

Fred Fulton and his managers are making much ado about little more than nothing. They're all excited over the fact that Freddie knocked out Andre Anderson in the first round in Eau Claire. Wis, the other evening. And loudly are they acclaiming this "achievement" as another reason why Jess Willard should quit circusing and spank Fred, who never has done him a single wrong. Knocking out Anderson is a trick almost as easy of accomplishment as winding up the alarm clock. Of all the jokes that ever were brought from the bushes and paraded as fighters. Anderson is the most humorous. Charlie Mainert hit him in a New York ring one night; Andre went through the ropes and never stopped traveling till he struck Chicago.

Indian Batteries Get Early Start

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16.-Battery men of the Cleveland American league club will be sent to the spring training camp at New Orleans at least ten days in adat New Orleans at least ten days in advance of the other players, according to plans announced by Manager Lee Fohl.

"We got the jump on the other clubs last spring because our pitchers were rendy, and barring accidents, I propose to have them in as good shape next April," Fohl explained.

Eleven pitchers and three catchers will form the advance squad of the club, which is to report about February 29. The men are Morton, Coveleskie, Beebe, Boehling, Goumbe, Gould, Lambeth, Smith, Pettit, Kiepfer and Penner, pitchers; O'Neill, Daly and DeBerry, catchers.

Michigan Likes Boccer. Michigan Likes Soccer.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nev. 18.—Soccer football is to receive considerable attention from University of Michigan students this year. The boosters for the English sport include 24 students from South Africa, who have a team of their own. It is planned to send this team to the Pacific coast during the holidays, if a sufficient guarantee can be obtained from coast colleges. Nine of the men on the Michigan team played on the same team in Africa.

Yost recently was watching the first eleven in practice. Quarterback Sparks was tearing through his eignals.

"He hurries his team too much," shouted Yost and then he told Sparks to case up a bit.

"You can't slam down the field the way you could in the old game," said the Michigan football wisard. "With 10 yards to gain you have to take your time."

And so, the Yost nickname, won in 1906, received its first setback.

DRESS MORE OUT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov 16 Whether the board of arbitration of the National association of baseball clubs remains as it is or is changed is the most important matter before the meeting of the national baseball association here today. Action on the matter will be taken when a resolution suggested last night by Charles H. Ebbetts, president of the Brooklyn Nationals is brought before the meeting. The resolution follows:

"Renotved, that the board of arbitration of the National Association of 16 of fessional Baseball Leagues remain as it is ten members; that this board propose two of its members to represent the minor leagues as any discussional which mitually concern the major and minor leagues."

No decisions were handed down last night in the 135 disputed cases before the national board of arbitration.

Although there was much general discussion of proposed amendments to the constitution of the association, last night's meeting was adjourned before a vote was taken.

FOOTBALL

George P. Day of the athletic board of control at Tale is opposed to hiring professional coaches. It seems abourd to Mr. Day that football coaches should get more money than many college presidents. Mr. Day would have coaches be members of the faculty who give gridinal instruction merely for the love of serving.

Rush vs. Haughton.

Lacking the physical power upon attack, with no buckfield men of the Mahan, King or Casey type, Speedy Rush of Princeton, has been at a disadvantage in his annual battles with Haughton.

But at that the Crimson margin hasn't been large. Each time Haughton won by less than five points—less than a touchdown's margin. But considering the backfield material he has had at hand, Rush has given the Harvard preceptor a good, even fight.

Boy Boxing Wonder Walked 2,000 Miles To Get In Game

NEW YORK. Nov. 15.—"Bnowy"
Baker, the Australian fight promoter, has uncovered an 18-year-old youngster—Jim Tracey—whom he believes will some day be heavyweight champion of the world.

"He is 6 feet 4 inches tall and weighs about 185 pounds now," writes Baker. "In a year or two he will put on 25 or 46 pounds more, and then he'll be ready to go out after the best men in the world."

The kild has been bexing only a few months, with Les Darcy training him. Les declares that Tracey is a coming wonder, and Les knows a fighter when he mee one. The boy can hit with the power of a mule's kick, He is fast and smart, too, and learns the fine points of the game quickly.

Tracey, by the way, walked 2,000 miles for a chance to become a battler. His home was far out in the Queensand bush. One day he got into a scrap with the town bully and gave him a nifty lacing. The bully had friends—and they went "gunning" for the kid.

Tracey remained in hiding for a while and then decided to go to Sydney, the Australian mecca of pugillats. Having no funds for railroad fares he set out afoot. Forty-seven days later, bedraggled and weary, he sajuted Baker. And the promoter, imprehead with the gameness of the boy in making that long journey, alone, has taken him under his wing.
